Dallas Firm Wins PO Bid At $34,630

Project To Begin
Within 30 Days
On Interior Job

Postmaster John Hays announced this week that a contract has been awarded to Hanna Improvement Co., Dallas, for $34,630 to renovate the interior of the Cameron Postoffice.

Bids were opened last week in Dallas by postal authorities, but name of the low bidder was not available at the time.

Hanna Co. is required to begin work within 30 days of their bid's acceptance and will have 90 days in which to complete the work, according to Hays.

First Major Repairs

It will be the first major renovation job on the Cameron Postoffice since its construction in 1917.

Plans call for installation of new plumbing, wiring and heating facilities as well as new flooring and lobby improvements.

Hays said the interior would be almost completely remodeled though the exterior of the building would not be altered.

Plans call for removal of two trees outside the building and emplacement of a flagpole in the yard. The present pole on top of the building will be removed he said.

Other major changes call for new marble for postoffice vestibule and new service windows.

New Mailroom Flooring

Hays told The Herald that battleship linoleum will be installed in the first-floor mailroom area. The name of the building will be described above the outside main entrance to the structure.

Plumbing and heating facilities have been faulty for a number of years, Hays said.

The Cameron Postoffice renovation followed closely on similar work completed at the Marlin Postoffice.

Training Program

To Start August 20
For Scout Leaders

Mrs. Dana Monroe, organization director for Cameron Girl Scouts, Wednesday announced a training program for Girl Scout leaders starting August 20.

She told The Herald that troop leaders are needed for both Girl and Brownie Scout troops.

"The Girl Scout movement in Cameron is in desperate need of adult leaders for the various local troops," she said.

She pointed out that the training program will last five weeks with classes going one-half day per week. Girl Scout Troops meet one afternoon a week during the school year, she said.

Mrs. Monroe asked that anyone interested in working as a Girl Scout leader to call her at 1366.

WATERLINE GOING IN—Workmen are emplacing a 16-inch waterline from Little River to the city settling basin this week to replace the overloaded 8-inch line now in use. The line, about one mile long, will provide an adequate waterway in the future to prevent water pressure failure in the city, according to city officials. Crewmen and machinery (above) have been busy for two weeks with the line which will serve a city of 18,000-20,000 people, officials said.

City Council Votes To Disregard New Request For Settlement

Guilty Plea Brings Braden 2nd Sentence

Charles Braden, convicted by a district jury June 18 of killing Johnnie Sanders, Friday entered a plea of guilty to a second charge arising from the shooting incident December 22.

The 22-year-old Houston man entered a plea of guilty to a charge of assault with intent to kill in the wounding of Claude Sanders, 20-year-old younger brother of the deceased Sanders.

Claude Sanders Wounded
Claude Sanders was wounded the same night his brother died from an abdominal wound.

Braden was sentenced to a 2-5 year sentence to run concurrently with the 20-year sentence recommended by the district jury June 18.

Braden also accepted the 20-year sentence. He waived the right to appeal the jury verdict or the 2-5 year sentence.

He was taken to the state penitentiary, Huntsville, by Sheriff Carl Black. Braden had been held in the County Jail pending hearing on the charge of assault with intent to kill.

District Judge O. D. Graham passed the sentence in the Friday hearing.

10 Days To Appeal

Braden had 10 days following the jury verdict June 18 to appeal to a higher court.

Braden was convicted of murder with malice in the older Sanders' death that occurred about 11:40 p.m. December 22 outside the Starlite Club.

Both brothers had left the club before the shooting, testimony showed during the trial two weeks ago. The trial lasted two days.

Braden will serve out the two sentences concurrently and would be eligible for parole after about 13 years.

At the Belton Rodeo that evening Miss Curtis will be presented with the queen's court.

Letter Asks $2,500 For Easement

The City Council Tuesday night voted to disregard a request from counsel for Mayor Robert Weems for settlement of a property dispute on South Washington St.

Their action followed reading of a letter from Charles Smith, attorney for Weems who asks that the city pay $2,500 for an easement for emplacement of a waterline on a 200-foot strip of roadway he says he owns.

City Attorney William C. Black told councilmen that the street in question had been maintained by the city for about 30 years. He said his study seemed to show that the city had the right to install the 16-inch waterline without settlement with Weems.

Weems first filed a request for a settlement with the city last April. He stated then that he felt he still had property rights to that part of the roadway the city would use to lay the line.

Blake pointed out Tuesday night that official map of the city listed the street and that a deed listed in county records showed the land had been sold to a local bank in 1948.

Smith's letter to the council pointed out Weems would seek a court injunction to stop the city's using the streetway if settlement were not made.

Councilman Richard Moseley also motioned that additional city legal counsel be provided if suit was filed by Weems over the property.

Black said interpretation of the suit depended on interpretation of the legal aspects of the case. The injunction would have to be filed in district court, he added.

In other action the council tabled for further study a maintenance agreement with the state Highway Department.

Black questioned the advisability of accepting a clause in the agreement calling for the city to assume responsibility for accidents on state highways in Cameron.

The council asked for more time to study the measure.

The council also:

ONE—Voted not to recognize a claim from Jesse J. Martin for $102 damage to his car which was damaged in a collision with the city police car June 26. Officer George Dewey McCall was driving the police car.

TWO—Discussed air conditioning city hall.

THREE—Heard City Secretary Wayne Wieser report collections of delinquent taxes totaling $375.81. Wieser also presented the city monthly financial statement.

OPENS OFFICES — Dr. Sidney H. Richardson, 691 East 10th St., has opened offices at 114 North Fannin. Meaningful Fourth

The Fourth of July has more meaning than the boom of firecrackers and a holiday picnic. But that true meaning is often time submerged in the swirl of mid-summer vacationing.

It was the proclamation day of American freedom, that July 4, 1776, when 13 colonies found self-rule by popular representation more acceptable than the rule of a king and his emissaries.

It was a day that brought a union of colonial interests into an embryonic nation's creation, interests that were later defined in our Constitution and a Bill of Rights.

Followed then the first of eight major wars to fix our place in the international scheme of things as a republic and a haven for freedom-seeking people. And many were the skirmishes with pirates, Indians and Old World interests that occurred after the Revolutionary and between World War II.

It seems superfluous to list the multitude of battles and heroes and wars that the Fourth of July also commemorates. We are certain, however, that Independence Day is the signal day for Americans everywhere to look around . . . and remember.

We should remember that the Fourth of July is more than a day off from work or a day at the beach or a picnic in the park or a game of golf. In fact, we might think of it as one of the first days that made all of the ensuing Holiday Fourths possible.

Inseparably listed with that decree of freedom are the wearisome years of war and peace that gave the Declaration enduring meaning.

We will continue to enjoy holidays like today because of that bell-ringing announcement 181 years ago. Let's salute that occasion with sincere tribute as well as a firecracker.

Mid-County Cameron

All the rains in the past three months have Milam Countians recalling an earlier day of more rains in this area and trying to outdo one another in ways to describe the endless downpours.

Listen in on a conversation between one Countian and The Herald editor who was caught up in the play for more descriptive words of the many showers.

"Never saw so much rain," volunteers he.

"Yes," I say, "quite a shower we had this morning."

"Wasn't anything like the downpour yesterday, though," he continues.

"That's right," I agree. "It makes you wonder where all the water comes from."

"My daddy used to talk about the gully-washers in the '20's," he adds.

"In Torrents?" I inquire.

"Yes," is his reply, "rained."

"Lake cats and dogs," I offer. "Just like the last few have come down in buckets."

"Remember that thunderstorm last week?" I ask.

"Sure do," he answers, "sheets of rain."

"As if the sky fell in," I continue.

"Some cloudburst. I was drenched."

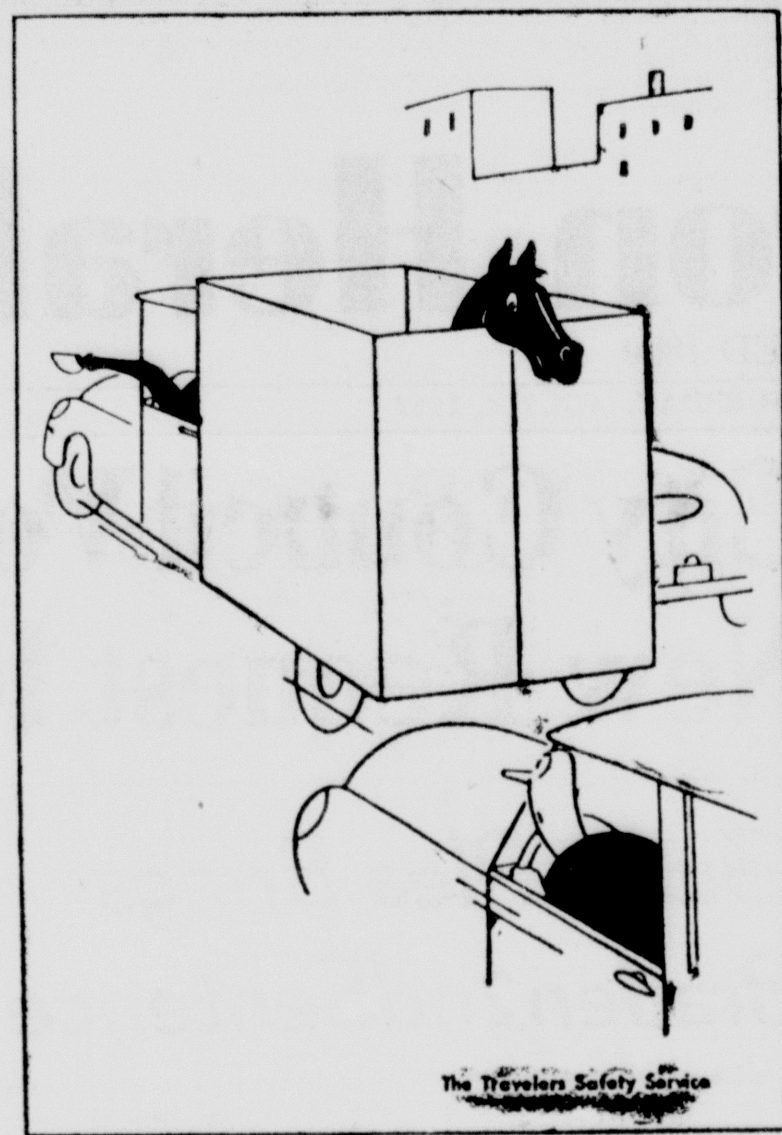

"Then it tapered off to a drizzle. didn't it?" I inquire.

"Right after it poured." He pauses. He had an expectant look on his face as it came my turn to describe it. I couldn't.

"Hate to do this to you, editor," says he, exhaltingly. "But that last soaker washed away some of my topsoil by the rain guageful."

"I know when I'm beat," I say. "I'm throwing in the towel."

THE LITTLE RIVER PHILOSOPHER

LR Sage Alarmed As Ike Proposes Twist To State Aid

By J. A.

The Little River Philosopher seems a little worried this week, but we guess he'll get over it.

Dear editor: I don't mind admitting I'm pretty worried this morning.

According to an article I read in a newspaper last night — I was so upset over what I read I don't even remember now where I found the paper — President Eisenhower made a speech before a meeting of all 48 State Governors the other day and urged that the Federal government cut out some of its work and turn it over to the states.

For example, he said, disaster relief ought to be paid by the states instead of Washington.

Now I believe in state's rights all right, and I go further, I believe also in county rights, precinct rights, community rights, and farm rights, and on this farm I believe in husband's rights, but Ike's proposal has sure thrown a bombshell in my thinking.

That is, if a man gets in financial trouble and calls on Washington, and Washington refers him back to his state, what's to keep the state from referring him back to his county, his county to his precinct, his precinct to his community, and his community telling him to help himself?

You can see what this would lead to. We'd be right back where we started, with everybody expected to look after himself, and a whole generation of progress toward telephoning Washington would go out the window. This country just wouldn't be the same again.

Not only that, but some smart

Capitol Report

Safety Director Predicts Ten To Die July 4

By Vern Sanford
Texas Press Association
AUSTIN — State Highway Patrolmen are on the lookout for careless drivers.

Ten Texans are scheduled to die on the highways during the holidays, according to Homer Garrison Jr., Department of Public Safety Director. Twelve died on July 4 last year.

DPS fatality predictions usually are frighteningly accurate. However, state law enforcement officers are doing their best to cut the traffic toll and thereby prove themselves wrong in their estimates.

Gov. Price Daniel has made a personal appeal to Texans to join together to "curb the senseless slaughter on our streets and highways."

Col. Garrison reports 120 extra for the holiday "Operation Deathwatch." Their job will be to spot the speeders, drunken or reckless drivers and take them off the roads before accidents occur.

Texas Safety Association has joined in the push for better citizenship on the highways. TSA says last year's traffic accidents in Texas cost $275,000,000 took 2,611 lives and injured another 115,000 persons.

GRAND JURY DIGS IN
Travis County grand jury touched off a rash of speculation by issuing summons to a new group of witnesses.

What they found out about the affairs of the bankrupt ICT Insurance Co. of Dallas and former Ins. Comm. Chmn. J. Dyron Saunders will not be known until later in the summer when the jury reports.

Ileek would then come up with the proposal that Washington is going to turn disaster aid back to the states, why couldn't it turn foreign aid back to the foreign countries, and anybody who knows anything at all about the world today knows it would collapse next Tuesday if Washington shut off all foreign aid.

I tell you, we're treading on dangerous ground when we start talking about everybody relying on his own resources. I intend to buy a whole bunch of postcards and write the whole United States Congress about this, just as soon as my next check from Washington gets here.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Texas Weather Costs State $ 91 Millions

AUSTIN — Unprecedented floods, tornadoes and severe weather during the first five months of 1957 have taken a property toll in Texas estimated at $91,106,224.

These are the figures submitted in a report to Governor Price Daniel by State Defense and Disaster Relief headquarters this week.

Preliminary estimates place the flood damage at $69,700,000. A new survey of crop damage now being conducted may raise this estimate.

$16½ Millions Lost

The Weather Bureau estimates damage by tornadoes, hailstorms, the March blizzard and other severe weather from February 16 through May 31 at $16,745,833. This does not include floods and loss of livestock.

State agencies' contribution to disaster operations is now placed at $3,360,39.

In addition, the cost of Red Cross assistance in meeting eligible needs of individuals and families is now estimated at $1,300,000.

A tornado, which struck near Harlingen February 16, touched off a chain of weather violence unequalled in the history of Texas. This was followed by the worst spring blizzard (March 19) ever to hit the Texas Panhandle. With thousands stranded, the death toll was held to a surprising seven.

Dallas Hit April 2

Then came the disastrous Dallas tornado of April 2 that claimed nine lives. This was followed by the devastating Lampasas flood on May 12 that destroyed 90 percent of the business district, smashed 310 homes and killed five persons.

It was on May 24 that 22 tornadoes churned across a terrified Texas. Scores of other funnels were sighted but did not dip to the ground. Never before in the history of the Weather Bureau had there been such a day of violence, setting a new record which Texans will not point to with pride.

Onions Serve Well As Diet Balancer

By Julia Hunter

Onions are so often used for seasoning or served as a relish, but they are usually overlooked as a real leafy green vegetable. They are just that and may well fill the need for a leafy green vegetable in a well-balanced diet.

Knowing how to select onions is important. Mild yellow red or white Bermuda types are best for serving raw. Smaller or "hot" onions have a stronger flavor and are more satisfactory for cooking. Dry onions should be bright, clean well-shaped and have a hard, dry skin. Green onions should be crisp and tender with fresh green tops, medium-size necks and they should be white two or three inches from the root.

Store dry onions at room temperature or slightly cooler. They keep best if spread out rather than being piled together. Store green onions in the refrigerator in a tightly covered container.

Submerge Onions

The substance that gives onions their distinctive flavor is a volatile oil and it is this oil that causes tears. Soaking onions under water while peeling and cutting prevents the oil fumes from rising and so prevents tears.

It is not necessary, as we once believed, to cook onions in a large amount of boiling water in an uncovered pan. Cook them in just half an inch of water in a covered pan. Bring the water to a boil, reduce the flame to simmer and simmer the onions until tender, 20 to 40 minutes, depending on size. This method of cooking retains food value, flavor and shape. One pound of onions makes four servings.

Onions Polonaise are easy to prepare. Brown 1/2-cup dry bread crumbs in one-third-cup butter or margarine. Add 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 1/4-teaspoon salt, 1/4-teaspoon pepper, a dash of paprika and mix well. Sprinkle mixture over hot cooked onions. Makes four servings.

Quickly dress hot cooked onions for four by sprinkling them with 1/2-cup grated American cheese and 1/2-teaspoon celery seed. Toss lightly until mixed and serve at once.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

GLAZED ONIONS: Melt 1/2-cup butter or margarine over a low gas flame. Add hot cooked onions to serve four. Sprinkle onions with 6 tablespoons brown sugar. Cook over low gas flame 10 minutes, turning and basting frequently. Sprinkle with coarsely ground black pepper. Makes 4 servings.

YOUR SOIL

By Your Soil Conservationist

Weed control on farm pastures and waterways has rapidly become the most important job that can be carried out for the immediate improvement of the stand and cover of the desired grass on these areas.

This, according to Soil Conservation Service personnel in Barlett, is the situation on most pastures and waterways throughout the east half of the Little River-San Gabriel Soil Conservation District.

Cooperators who have been able to mow or shred down the vigorous weed growth that has followed our rains see an immediate improvement in the performance of the Bermuda, Buffalo and or King Ranch Bluestem grasses.

Pastures which were mowed early are showing promise of developing solid to near solid covers of grass before mid-summer. These pastures are remindful of the overall appearance and vigor typical of many small pastures a few years back.

Waterways seeded or sodded to grass in preparation for future terrace construction are seriously in need of weed control. These newly planted grasses are especially susceptible to being overcome and crowded out by faster growing competition.

In fact, Soil Conservation Service observes, weed control within the next two weeks on many of these areas can mean the difference in having a good waterway on which to spill terrace run-off waters and no grass at all.

Flea Hoppers Invade Cotton

J. D. Moore, County Agent

An unusually heavy infestation of cotton flea hoppers are a real threat to all stages of cotton regardless of previous insect control measures.

Large numbers of flea hoppers are invading cotton fields throughout Milam county. This large migration is due to weeds maturing. Weeds, particularly Horse-mint, are host plants for flea hoppers.

As these weeds reach maturity at this time of the year, the flea hoppers invade the cotton fields for a more desirable host plant in which to rear their young. Tiny flea hoppers hatch out in the terminal buds of cotton plants and since it has no wings until near maturity, the young hoppers feed most of their life on the young terminal buds of the cotton plant.

In the feeding process, the tiny squares are stung by the insect and never develop. Cotton farmers are advised to apply one or two applications of posion to their cotton. After insect damage occurs, further steps to combat insects becomes a salvage operation.

Weevils Hitting

Boil weevils are present in most of the early April cotton. We are aware of the fact that farmers have been advised to apply early insect control measures by June 10, and stop after that date. We never know for sure what insects will do. We think we know what cotton flea hoppers and boll weevils will do if they are not controlled.

What poisons to use? These materials are described in detail in the cotton insect guide. These are available at the county agent's office.

Farm accidents resulted in more than 14,000 deaths last year, putting farming third among major industries in the number of accidental deaths. Fatigue, a human factor, is a common cause for accidents on the farm. Old Dobbin became tired when horses were employed for cultivation and the farmer was required to rest his animals periodically. It was then that the farmer was forced to rest simultaneously.

Machine Age Arrives

A fatigues machine, the tractor, has replaced horses and mules on the farm. It vibrates, jerks, bounces, and jars; it's muscles never cramp and it needs no rest.

The farmer is a human being, not a machine. But with mechanized agriculture the modern farmer tends to drive both himself and the tractor on and on; he neglects to take the rest periods that were a part of the previous way of farming with old Dobbin.

The tractors that eliminated old Dobbin and his "horse sense" have upped accidents on the farm.

Funeral Services

Held For Mrs. Pope

Funeral services for Mrs. H. T. Pope were held 3 p.m. Friday at the Friendship Methodist Church, with Phillips and Luckey Funeral Home in charge.

Burial was in the Friendship cemetery. The Rev. Verlon Feller of Franklin officiated.

Mrs. Pope died at her home early Wednesday morning after a long illness.

Mrs. Pope, the former Miss Rosa Ann Rice, was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Rice. She was married to H. T. Pope Nov. 4, 1896.

Pailbearers were her grandsons, J. D. Jr., Robert, David, Homer, Jim and Marvin Pope.

Surviving are her husband, H. T. Pope, five sons, Robert and Marvin of Alice, J. W. Pope of Friendship, and J. D. and H. C. Pope of Sharp; and 23 grandchildren.

She was preceded in death by a son, Guy Pope, in 1930.

The first blood transfusion according to record, was given to Pope Innocent VIII in 1492.

A Tribute

To Our Postmen!

When Aunt Hettie, in Boston or Bangkok, writes you a letter, a huge piece of governmental machinery goes into action. Ships, trains, trucks and airplanes may be called upon to bring that intimate message to you. When it arrives here, your faithful Postman picks it up, puts it in his weathered leather bag and delivers it personally to your door. He is one of our most important Civic servants. He is chosen for his dependability, his strong legs, his neighborhood familiarity and his eagerness to serve. He knows you, your family, your dog . . . and is a welcome sight to all! We salute the faithfulness of the Mail Carrier!

Beauty in motion—Chevrolet Bel Air Sport Sedan with Body by Fisher.

Here's why Chevy's best showroom is the road!

Because Chevrolet's sleek good looks, its advanced features, are only part of the story. The big bonus is its remarkable roadability, the crisp precision handling that has posted an entirely new standard for cars in every price class. There are reasons for this, of course: Chevrolet's balanced weight distribution that takes excessive loads off the front wheels, the wide stance of outrigger rear springs, Ball-Race steering, spherical-joint front suspension. Sure, you can admire the sculptured lines in the showroom. But Chevy's a car specifically designed for beautiful motion—you have to travel in this one to know just how terrific it is. Try it, this week!
